

Become a part of the RSIS TA Program

Host Family

- Share your home with a young adult from a Spanish speaking country and create long lasting relationships
- Expose your family to the Spanish language in a setting outside of the classroom
- Connect with other RSIS families and build school community
- Make a positive difference in the experience of an RSIS Teaching Assistant

As a host family, you will provide a private room to a TA for half of the school year. You will be family to the TA during their time in your home and provide support, answer questions and establish friendships. Being a host family is a rewarding experience for many RSIS families and a great way to build relationships with the young adults who enrich our students' educational experience!

Responsibilities:

- Provide a private room and meals to a TA for one semester
- Include a TA in your family life and activities
- Help coordinate with Aunt and Uncle families to work as a team to support a TA
- Have fun learning about another culture

Benefits:

- Great opportunity to connect with and learn about a young adult from a foreign country
 - Establish an extension of your family in other parts of the world
 - Expose your children to the Spanish language and other cultures in a setting outside of school
 - Connect with other RSIS families supporting the TA program
 - Children often feel special at school to be living with a TA
